Hotel Indigo Adelaide Markets

A boutique-sized pool that packs a punch in style and craftsmanship. Hotel Indigo Adelaide Markets pool is visually stunning day or night offering guests a sublime experience in the middle of the CBD.

Undoubtedly one of the most recognisable pools we have ever built is the pool at Hotel Indigo Adelaide Markets. Our work on this project included the creation of the infinity pool structure, hydraulic systems, commissioning and of course tiling.

Located on the Level 4 podium, the 11m x 2.5 pool was created with a mixture of cast and pour and shotcrete techniques to provide a robust structure. The balance tank sits neatly under the infinity edge on the street-facing side of the pool for convenience and gives bathers an unobstructed view across the city to the Eastern Suburbs.

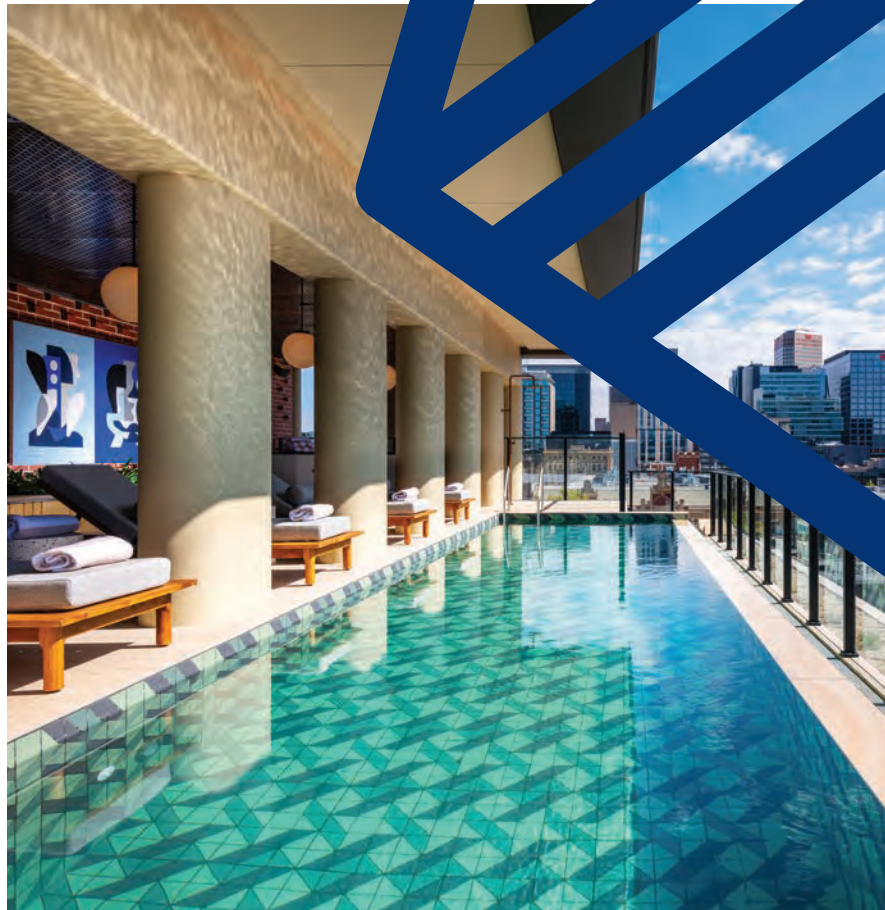

After completion of the structure, we undertook hydrostatic testing. A process where the pool is filled with water for several days to check for leaks or other issues prior to waterproofing works. This process gives additional peace of mind that the structure won't leak onto valuable infrastructure and assets below. After waterproofing, we could move on to the pool finishes, rails, lighting and of course the unique tile choice.

HOTEL INDIGO

The Tessellated Tile selected for the pool's internal finish is a nod to the 19th Century cottages that were built in Adelaide. Similar design touches are used throughout the hotel in guest rooms and public areas. The green, teal, and charcoal tiles have been laid in a modern but complex pattern that increased the usual time taken to tile, however, the spectacular result is totally worth it.

The modest-sized water treatment plant is located on the same level as the pool and features commercial-grade equipment including a sand filter, strainer, pumps, heater (keeping the pool a glorious 30 degrees) and controls for the 6 x LED lights in the pool. The plantroom also houses a Davey Salt Chlorinator, which ensures correct sanitation of the pool water quality while reducing the unpleasant taste and smell of chlorine, making the water gentler on bathers' skin and eyes and reducing chemical use

AWARDS

The Hotel Indigo Adelaide Markets pool achieved enormous success at the 2022 Swimming Pool and Spa Association (SPASA) Awards for Excellence, taking home Gold for the Commercial pool up to the $500,00 category in South Australia and the National title in the same category.
